

EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES

Banking and finance

The finance industry has seen a significant decline in the use of face to face banking and financial services, with online banking becoming more common. Mobile banking apps, smart ATMs and Chatbots are the future of finance – putting banking at the consumer's fingertips and placing a higher demand on technology skills being required for workers in this industry.