

EMERGING TECHNOLOGIES

Property services, real estate and security

Technology has been engaged to offer virtual real estate inspections for both routine inspection and pre-sale or open home experiences. The real estate sector has adopted drone technology to photograph homes and properties, offering a birds-eye view as opposed to former standard photography. Apps and on-line document signing are used to speed up and simplify the conveyancing process.